After this age, physiological factors such as hormone imbalance, inflammation, and oxidative stress can begin to affect the size of the prostate, as well as its cellular DNA. By taking the herbal supplement, Prostate 5LX, a man can help support and maintain his prostate health. Saw Palmetto and Green Tea Help Support Prostate* The herbs used in Prostate 5LX are properly extracted and blended in the correct proportions to promote prostate health. While each herb has its individual strengths, combined they make for the ideal, single prostate-protection supplement. Saw palmetto is an herb that supports health of the urinary tract by improving urinary flow*, while green tea offers a broad range of prostate-supportive phytonutrients. Stinging nettle helps promote a healthy inflammation response and support prostate function. Ginger and Selenium Help Modulate Normal Cell Growth* The inflammatory enzyme called 5-lipoxygenase (5LX) can affect cellular DNA by disrupting the mechanisms responsible for maintaining normal cell growth and replication. As a result, it's important to modulate 5LX
