Pain ignites the spirit." A defensive viewer might try to advance an in-film reason for the lack of correct grammar, namely that the incantation appeared in the diary of Patience Buckner, the daughter of the "zombie redneck torture family." However, that's unconvincing for at least three reasons: the Latin was unhesitatingly translated into English by the character who was stereotyped as a scholar; it had the role of summoning the family from their graves, which a grammatically meaningless sequence of words or phonemes presumably wouldn't; and the diary was planted in the basement by an overstuffed, abundantly resourced organization with the ability to create high-tech force fields, pheromone gas, and brain-altering hair dye.
